

EU Commission is free to decide about SmartStax

Bruxelles, 11 July 2013. No qualified majority was reached today in a vote on EU market authorisation of genetically engineered maize SmartStax for import and usage in food and feed. EU Commissioner Tonio Borg is supposed to take a final decision within the next weeks. Please keep on supporting our e-mail action [1] against the market authorisation of SmartStax. Up to now, 4500 e-mails were sent to the EU Commission.
